PROHIBITION IS WANING ON HAWAII

(Special Correspondence.) Hilo, Hawaii, June 17.—The Home Rule party will have nothing to do with the prohibition question; it will take sides neither for nor against it. This is what Charlie K. Notley, the veteran leader of the Home Rule party said last week, when he visited Hilo for a few days. "Personally I don't drink," said Notley, when asked about his party's stand on the prohibition question. "I was taught to leave liquor alone and I am teaching my children to leave it alone. This, I believe, is the very best kind of prohibition. I did not take a very great interest in the prohibition agitation, but recently, in order to familiarize myself on the subject, I went to Acting Governor Mott Smith, and from him I got the various laws on the subject of liquor. I was rather surprised to find that the present law gave the Liquor Commissioners absolute powers on the subject, and asked Mr. Mott-Smith how under these circumstances there could be any reason for wanting prohibition laws, when the Commissioners could enforce almost anything they liked.

"So far the Home Rule party has taken no interest in the prohibition question, and I have advised the members of the party, through my newspaper, that every one of them must take his own stand on the question and vote according to his own convictions at the plebiscite. Even after the plebiscite has been taken, no matter which way it results the Home Rule party will hardly take a stand on the prohibition question. Each candidate for the legislature must declare for himself how he will vote on that subject. It is true that a number of Home Rule leaders, such as Kalaokalani, Sr., and Kalua, as well as others, have taken a prominent part in the fight on the side of the prohibitionists; but it must be thoroughly understood that they are acting as individuals in the matter and their actions are not binding on the party."

Mr. Notley went on to say that the Home Rule County convention for this island would probably this year be held in Hilo, as last time it had been held at Kailua. It seems very clear that in Hilo and the surrounding districts the cause of prohibition is not able to stand on its own feet. At least, as soon as the Honolulu organizers, Nakookoo and Mossman, left for other pastures, the newly started prohibition clubs went into a peaceful slumber and it does not seem probable that they will wake up again unless some more itinerant workers come and prod them. In the meantime there has been some alarm on the part of those of the politicians who believe that the prohibitionists are endangering the self-government idea by their methods. This excitement is due to the report that the prohibitionists in their hunt for signers for their pledges, included not only women, but that they took the signatures of school children as well. In order to make a showing, all was grist that came to their mill, and many politicians fear that this bunch of signatures can be used with some effect in Washington, when their true nature there is disguised. There is a predominant note of lack of confidence in the methods of the hired prohibition workers, who, it is generally believed, will stoop to any trickery to carry their proposition through. It is certain that the cause of prohibition has lost ground in this community during the past month, and the funny part of it is that the prohibitionists themselves are responsible for this, as the liquor men have been nowhere in evidence.

FORMOSA SENDS CHEMISTS HERE

S. Iriki, chief chemist of Meiji Sugar Company, and Masata Nakasawa of Rinhongon Sugar Mill, both of Formosa, will leave for Maui on the Mauna Kea tomorrow to visit the plantations on that island. From there they will proceed to Hawaii, where they intend to make a careful investigation of the sugar plantations. Messrs. Iriki and Nakasawa are experienced chemists in the Formosa sugar mills. In order to get a better understanding of the duties of the chemists as observed on our plantations, they were sent here to familiarize themselves with that part of the sugar industry in the islands. After they have made a circuit of the islands, they will leave for Japan in the Chiyu Maru, which sails from this port on the 28th.

Attorney Frank Thompson is about town this morning and it is said that he is getting well quickly, and that he may possibly be seen at a certain important event that is scheduled for tomorrow.

NEW SHOW AT OPERA HOUSE.

Tonight Mr. McRae will offer a play that he feels sure will meet with the approval of his many patrons, a play that has enjoyed a successful run in New York and met with the approval of the press and public of every large city throughout the United States, "Merely Mary Ann."

Mr. McRae has given this play a most excellent production and every member of the cast has been selected with care as to the part he will portray. This play will run up to and including Wednesday evening and on Thursday and continuing for the remainder of the week "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," a sister play to "When Knighthood Was in Flower," will be the offering with the usual matinee on Saturday.

BRIBERY CHARGES WILL FAIL IS RUMOR

(Continued from Page 1.) still a number of witnesses to be asked to give up what they may know in regard to an attempt being made to influence the vote or the votes of certain members of the city and county board. The fact is generally known that Member Ahia denied the statement attributed to him, to wit: that Crawford had offered a sum of money for his vote. Ahia made public declaration to this effect at a very recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors. He has disclaimed all along that Crawford or any other person who might act as the representative for the paving contractors had ever approached him with a proffer of money. It has been Ahia's contention that he was simply asked to support the measure calling for the paving of Fort street by the Warren process. It was pointed out to him that the thoroughfare was in sore need of improvement. He has freely admitted that Crawford was the man who, in two instances at least, had attempted to sound him for his opinion. Out of all the mass of testimony that has been taken in the investigation, it is claimed that Aylett has been the only witness who has made more or less direct charges against Crawford. For this reason, the friends of Crawford claim that there is little or nothing upon which the Territorial grand jury can pin an indictment. They claim that among the host of persons who have been called to tell what they know, the jury has received in the main a large and luscious crop of wild and woolly rumors. Practically every member of the Board of Supervisors, with the possible exception of Quinn and Logan, has been brought before the jury. It is presumed that with the termination of the Wednesday session of the Territorial grand jury, that

WATERFRONT NOTES

ONE HUNDRED and thirty first class passengers can be accommodated on the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria due to arrive here on June 24th from Hongkong via Japan ports. Only a small percentage of this number have already booked at the office of H. Haddock and Company. The indications are that the Manchuria will leave here on the following day for San Francisco with many empty cabins. The tourist rush is apparently over as only fair bookings are reported from most of the steamship offices.

THE HYADES, a Matson Navigation freighter having discharged a shipment of about twelve hundred tons of general merchandise at this port departed last evening for Kahului and from there will proceed to Port Allen. At each of the island ports the vessel will discharge some general cargo and take on shipments of sugar. The vessel will sail from Port Allen to San Francisco direct.

THE JAPANESE freighter Kiyu Maru with about two thousand tons of phosphates from South and Central American ports is expected to arrive at Honolulu on or about July 4th. This vessel is a peculiar type of cargo carrier. Her machinery is located in the extreme after part of the ship. There is a clean sweep of deck forward surmounted by a veritable forest of cargo masts.

AT FIVE o'clock this evening the American-Hawaiian freighter Missourian is scheduled to sail for Port Allen. While here fifty four hundred tons of sugar have gone into the steamer. The Missourian will take on sugar at Kahului and Hilo after leaving the Garden Island port. It is expected that the vessel will get away from Hilo for Salina Cruz on or about June 29th.

TWO hundred and fifty tons of Australian coal brought to this port by the Belgian ship L'Avantur are being discharged at the railway wharf and will be transported to Ewa Plantation. The vessel will probably be shifted to the Fort street wharf tomorrow where the remainder of the three thousand tons of coal will be unloaded and placed on the Irwin lot.

THE FREIGHT list of the Inter-Island steamer Kinan from Kaula ports included the following items: 6000 bags sugar from Kekaha Sugar Co., 4 empty acid bris, 4 empty gas tanks, 17 simple trunks, 17 bdls. hides, 10 bags spuds, 20 crts pears, 35 bags taro, 33 bris. honey, 50 cases honey, 40 bags coconuts, 163 pkgs. sundries.

A THOROUGH search of the Pacific Mail Steamship China was made by officers connected with the local customs staff yesterday. It was expected that a quantity of opium might be found. The vessel was scoured from truck to keelson but several hours spent below decks revealed nothing in the shape of contraband drug.

THE OCEANIC steamer Sierra sailing from San Francisco at noon on last Saturday is expected to arrive here early Friday morning with a large list of passengers. The company of theatrical people who have been selected by Manager Joel Cohen to open the new Orpheum will arrive by this vessel.

THERE IS AWAITING shipment on Kaula the following consignments of sugar according to a report from the purser of the steamer Kinan: K. S. M. 2550 bags; K. K. B. 4850; K. P. 9132; M. S. Co. 8800; K. S. Co. 130; H. M. 1847; G. F. 17,960; L. P. 85.

WHEN THE MATSON steamer Hyades sailed from Honolulu for island ports and San Francisco that vessel took about twelve hundred tons of sugar destined for coast refineries.

THE ARRIVAL of the Norwegian steamer Hercules at Portland, Ore. is reported. This vessel recently left a shipment of about six hundred tons of oriental cargo at Honolulu.

YESTERDAY'S arrivals at the port included the steamer W. G. Hall from Kaula ports bringing among other cargo 5500 sacks sugar and a consignment of sundries.

PURSER LOGAN of the steamer Hall arriving yesterday from Kaula reports 1847 H, 17,960 G and 85 L. P. sugar awaiting shipment at Garden Island ports.

body will be ready to offer some sort of report. In the meantime, Crawford goes about town wearing a smile that simply won't come off.

The City and County Attorney's office continues to maintain a dignified and sphinx-like attitude that has characterized all officials connected with that department since the investigation commenced. And the general public still wonders if anybody is really going to get hit by a Territorial indictment.

WATERFRONT NOTES

TWO HUNDRED persons who intend to spend a jolly Fourth of July on the island of Maui have already booked passage by the steamer Kinan which is scheduled to make a special trip to Kahului and return. The race meeting and the splendid program of sports and other lines of entertainment is the magnet that will succeed in drawing a much larger number from Honolulu. Arrangements have been made to accommodate a big delegation. The steamer Manna Kea, also on the berth for a special round trip to Hilo will carry a hundred at least. Practically all applicants for transportation will take in the volcano.

A FIFTEEN minute rule will apply to the departure of the Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmina when that vessel sails for San Francisco on Wednesday morning. The steamer is announced will cast off her lines at ten o'clock. The new regulation will compel all visitors to be on hand before 9:45 on that morning if they desire to go aboard the vessel prior to her sailing for the coast. The regulation is believed will obviate a lot of crowding of the gangways incident to the departure of any steamer where visitors are allowed to come and go up to the last moment.

THERE WILL be few unoccupied berths on the steamer Manna Kea when that vessel departs for Hilo via way ports at noon tomorrow. At the office of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company there is a very large booking of cabin passengers for this particular trip of the popular Hilo liner. A large number of the intending travelers are young people who have completed terms at the various schools and colleges at Honolulu and are returning to their homes.

INCLUDED in the miscellaneous assortment of freight brought to the port from Molokai, Lanai and Maui ports by the Mikahala was 870 sacks sugar, 250 head sheep, 17 hogs, 14 crates chickens, 462 bales hides, 100 sacks pail, 11 sacks taro and 74 packages sundries. The steamer met with strong north winds and heavy seas.

ACCORDING to advices at the local agency of the American Hawaiian line the freighter Arizona from Salina Cruz via San Francisco and Puget Sound will sail from Seattle on July 13th and should arrive here not later than July 22nd. This vessel brings New York cargo by the way of the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

THIS FAR THE Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina has about six hundred tons of sugar for shipment to the coast. The vessel will also take on a considerable quantity of pineapples and other lines of Hawaiian products. The liner will carry a large number of cabin passengers.

HAVING discharged a shipment of 1782 sacks sugar, 768 sacks rice, 60 sacks bran and 54 packages sundries, the inter-island steamer Noeua has been placed on the berth to sail on a return trip to Kaula at five o'clock this evening. The Noeua carries explosives to the Garden Island.

THE CABLE schooner Florence Ward is announced will sail for Midway Island on or about Thursday. The vessel will take the usual lines of supplies for the little colony of cable operators and employees marooned on the lonely sand spit in the mid-Pacific.

THE American-Hawaiian freighter Columbian is reported to have sailed from Seattle for Honolulu on Saturday. This vessel is bringing New York, San Francisco, Portland and Puget Sound cargo and should arrive here on or about June 27th.

A SHIPMENT of five thousand sacks of sugar is due to arrive at this port from Kaula by the steamer Cascade.

The cable sent in response to one from Washington to the Merchants' Association here was dictated by Mr. von Hamm of the Association and was to the effect that it was the opinion of the business community here that the Mahuka site was the only one suited to the new building, and that if it could not be built on that site then the plans should be altered so that a building could be erected to fit the available space.

This action in granting more money by Congress shows that the Merchants' Association chose wisely in the sentiments expressed in the cable sent to Washington and that it had the desired effect. At the time it was sent, however, those present in the rooms of the Association had little hope that the site would be increased, but rather thought that the plans would be cut down so that a suitable building might be erected on the land available.
